The Tower

April 2018

Christ Is Risen! Christ Is Risen indeed!

For over two thousand years Christians have greeted each other with these words at the dawning of Easter and throughout the Easter season of the church.

Historians can piece this much together: Easter was not expected. The disciples and all the others who had followed Jesus thought that everything they had hoped for was over. Their dreams of Rome leaving the country, of the Jewish state being re-established, of a cleansing of Temple worship and the coming of the Kingdom of God had all been dashed.

What they witnessed on the cross on Good Friday was nothing less than an existential disappointment of everything they had been given to believe and hope for. It was chaos, it was danger, it was fear.

We know this is true because the disciples scattered after the crucifixion. Only the women, who were deemed by the Romans as not very dangerous (what did they know?), came to anoint the dead body of their charismatic leader.

The disappointed disciples on the road to Emmaus (Luke 24:13ff) give us a good sense of what was really going on: "But we had hoped that he was the one to redeem Israel." They didn't know that they were talking to the RISEN Jesus and that now it wasn't only about the redemption of Israel but the salvation of the world.

Easter is about the most magnificent surprise ever – the greatest April Fools joke ever! To quote the words of St. Yogi Berra, “It ain’t over till it’s over!” Or as my mentor Rev. Herb Meza often said: “Nothing is good or bad until God gets through with it.” Easter is the declaration that God isn’t through...yet. Easter is the promise and the hope that death isn’t the final act, doesn’t get the final say, isn’t the end. There is more on up ahead.

So in the weeks and months ahead in your life, no matter what you are experiencing: joy or despair, hope or doubt, love or fear - “It ain’t over till its over!” Keep moving on, keep your hearts, minds and hands open. Keep serving others and witnessing to what is true, just and pure. Pay attention to unexpected guests that point you in a direction of a new presence, and a new hope. Do not give up!

“Christ is risen! Christ is risen indeed!” It is up to you (and me) to spread the good news.

Rev. Dr. John C. Lentz, Jr
Senior Pastor

Forest Hill Church is looking for new players to join the recreation softball team. Starting in late April thru end of July, the team plays every Sunday afternoon. The team needs around 4-6 new players to join the team this year. If interested, contact Jason Hidek at jason.hidek@att.net or 440-264-3296. Spring practices start mid-April.

*My song is love unknown, my Savior's love to me
Love to the loveless shown, that they might lovely be
Oh, who am I that for my sake,
My Lord should take frail flesh and die?*

*He came from heaven's throne salvation to bestow
But they refused and none the longed-for Christ would know
This is my friend, my friend indeed,
Who at my need, His life did spend.*

(Hymn No. 209)

Lois

These first two verses of the beautiful hymn, My Song is Love Unknown, speak volumes to me as we enter into the mysteries of Holy Week, Good Friday, Holy Saturday and, of course, Easter! I am often at a loss for words during this season – the enormity of Christ's passion and purpose defies simple explanation. His unflinching willingness to stand up to the forces of empire that would deny the image of God in all people brought him into deadly confrontation with those forces. His choice to take on human flesh and share our lot – sorrow, suffering, and death – gives all of us a point of reference as we deal with our sorrows and great vulnerability. But what most leaps out at me as I read these words is the transforming power of Christ's love, "love to the loveless shown, that they might lovely be."

As we contemplate Christ's terrible suffering and finally move toward the mind-blowing, empire upending, dazzling good news of Easter, let us hang on to love. We talk about love a lot here at Forest Hill Church, and sometimes I worry that we will become desensitized to the word. Perhaps this Holy Week we can meditate on it anew, on what it means to be loveless people who are made lovely by our Savior's love. May those meditations be humble and rigorously honest, yet infused with the hope that God is still loving us and this world into a new way of being!

Rev. Lois H. Annich

Music Notes

I look forward to leading the music at upcoming Lenten and Easter services: Palm Sunday (3/25), Maundy Thursday (3/29, service at 7:30 pm), the Easter Vigil (3/31, service at 7:30 pm) and our glorious Easter services (April 1, services at 9:00 am in the Chapel and 11:00 am in the sanctuary).

There are many moments during Holy Week that I find particularly moving. Palm Sunday: the children waving their palms and singing Hosanna, and the carrying of the heavy, wooden cross, accompanied by the singing of Ubi caritas; Maundy Thursday: the gradual extinguishing of the lights and candles, and the drama of the last reading when the sanctuary is plunged into darkness amid the stark beating of the drum; Easter Vigil: the solemn procession from the outdoor fire pit into the darkened sanctuary.

Easter: the throng of singers gathered at the front of the sanctuary to joyfully sing the Hallelujah Chorus. Please join us during Holy Week as we reenact, relive, and participate in the passion of Jesus Christ.

Looking forward, please mark your calendars for our family-friendly, intergenerational May Cabaret which will take place on Sunday, May 6 starting with a pizza supper at 6:15 and the show at 7:00 pm. If you have a special talent (fire-eating, magic tricks, comedic routines, etc), let me know so I can sign you up! This year, there will be a lot of audience participation in such things as the Forest Hill Academy Awards, the Name-That-Tune contest and the Getting-to-Know-You activity. Hope to see you there!

Adult Education in May

The Adult Ed class will start a new program, "Three Weeks of Shalom," in May.

May 6 – Kathryn Eloff and Alex Heston will lead bible study at 9:30, and Jessica Kelley from Justice and Mission, along with a friend from Sanctuary, will present a program at 12:15.

May 13 – Kathryn Eloff and Alex Heston will lead bible study at 9:30, and Paul Jennings from Abundance Food Pantry and Jack Breisch from Labre will speak about their programs at 12:15.

May 20 – Tom Zych will lead the 9:30 bible study, and Ann Williams will share her experiences with Camp Lilac. We encourage everyone to stay for a light lunch and an update on how our various ministries are living out scripture in today's world.

Blessings in Abundance

In last month's TOWER, the Stewardship Ministry began an exploration of our understanding of the term "stewardship." Millennial Grace Duddy Pomroy in Embracing Stewardship defined stewardship as "The way we use the abundance that God has entrusted to our care to love God and our neighbor."

The Stewardship Ministry based the last annual campaign on 2 Corinthians 9:8 "God is able to provide you with every blessing in abundance, so that by always having enough of everything, you may share abundantly in every good work." Members were invited to share where they saw blessings at FHC. Several of the responses follow:

- In worship that inspires. In relationships that sweeten and ripen with age. In real learning and service and love shared. In the name of Jesus Christ. In the sense of joy and privilege that I feel to be a member of this lively congregation.
- In the singing voices of the choir. Whenever Pastor Lentz preaches of diversity and inclusion. The graciousness of communion.

- Being a Sanctuary Church. Our Pantry Mission. Our Pastor and Interim Pastor.
- My neighbor next to me in the pew. The cross hanging over the altar. Music that touches the heart.

During the next weeks, we will share more blessings as witnessed by our members and friends. In addition, the Stewardship Ministry is continuing to collect and share member stories. We hope that when you are asked to share the story of what brought you to Forest Hill Church and how the church has made a difference in your life, you will agree with enthusiasm!

The Last Supper

Deacons' Desk

PART TWO

If you missed PART ONE
Please see the March edition of the Tower on our website
(fhcpresb.org)

In the March TOWER, Deacons' Desk introduced the idea that the above pictured seating arrangement of the Last Supper most likely was inaccurate – not only because the Roman design of the “Triclinium” table had been adopted by the first century Jews, but also because scripture conflicts with Da Vinci’s vision which has dominated imaginations of the majority for centuries. (For a more descriptive vision of the Triclinium table, see the picture that follows.)

It was not a first come, first seated, seating arrangement. The importance of the assigned seating depended on the importance of the guest to the host. So why would Peter – whom Jesus called “The Rock” – be seated in the servant's position? My guess is that Jesus is about to have a teaching moment.

The disciples have just been informed by Jesus that one of them is going to betray him. (Luke 22:21) They begin to argue amongst themselves as to who is the greatest among them. Did Peter lose the argument? Or did Peter win the argument?

SEATING ARRANGEMENT

²⁶ But among you it will be different. Those who are the greatest among you should take the lowest rank, and the leader should be like a servant.²⁷ Who is more important, the one who sits at the table or the one who serves? The one who sits at the table, of course. But not here! For I am among you as one who serves.

(Luke 22:26-27)(NLT)

Jesus washes the feet of all the disciples beginning with Peter, seated in the lowest guest position, placing himself below even the servants' role. Can you imagine Jesus under the table in Da Vinci's interpretation washing feet, or is it easier to see the disciples lying on their left sides with their feet sticking out behind them, allowing Jesus access?

For John to be able to lean back in the reclined seating arrangement he would have to have been in front of Jesus to his right.

The disciple Jesus loved was sitting next to Jesus at the table. Simon Peter motioned him to ask, "Who's he talking about?" So that disciple leaned over to Jesus and asked, "Lord who is it?"

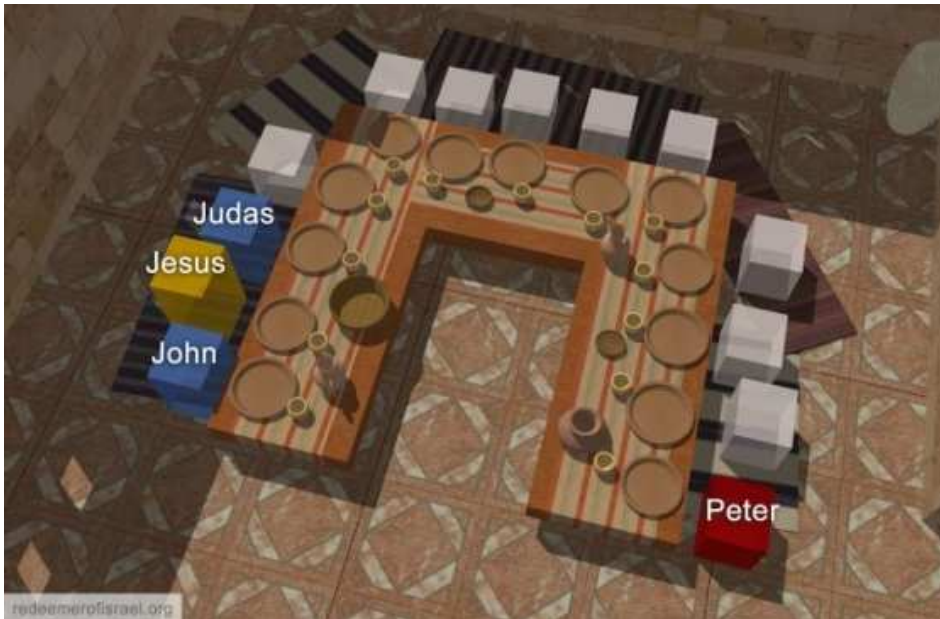

(John 13: 23 – 25) (NLT)

(The response was probably only heard by John, reclined on the chest of Jesus)

In order for Peter to signal John to ask Jesus he would need to get John's attention. Sitting across the triclinium table on the other side would make that possible with even a gesture. Jesus answers John:

Jesus responded, "It is the one to whom I give the bread I dip in the bowl (John 13:26) (NLT)

For Jesus to be able to give Judas a "sop" of bread, Judas would have been in close proximity of the bowl from which Jesus would dip the bread.

IN SUMMARY:

However you chose to imagine the setting of The Last Supper, one factor is consistent. At FHC it is a table of grace and all are welcome.

"Every time you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim my death until I come again."

by John Dugard, Deacon

Earth Care and Advocacy

To advocate is to speak to or to speak for. Advocacy is generally a personal choice but it can lead to group action. At Forest Hill Church we are blessed to have members who are very active in advocacy, both personally and in groups, especially on social issues such as race relations, guns, and unreasonable incarcerations.

For matters involving Earth Care, our advocacy tends to be more private and personal. We live in a region that does not directly experience drought, floods, lack of water, incessant air pollution, wildfires, or loss of pristine living habitats for ourselves or for wildlife. Issues which occur elsewhere do not move us to action here.

Nevertheless, we need to maintain diligence, for our current national administration is bent on attacking responsible earth care on several fronts – dismantling EPA and overturning positive regulations, opening up federal lands for extractive industry exploitation, denying climate change effects, and thwarting actions that the Clean Air and Clean Water Acts dictate.

Environmental NGO's such as Natural Resources Defense Council, Earth Justice, and Sierra Club continue to deserve our support, as they seem to be the best group voices to oppose with legal challenges the many governmental actions which go against protecting our Earth. Often such legal actions have been successful.

We should also continue to contact our Congressional representatives and implore them to support Earth Care legislation and oppose those actions which are counter to responsible Earth Care.

If you want to dig deeper into current federal legislative actions or inaction on any issue, Earth Care or otherwise, go to www.Congress.gov. But a word of warning – there are thousands of bills on many topics that have been introduced by the current Congress.

Greater Cleveland Congregations Update

Important dates and events follow. Please join us where you are interested, particularly the assembly on April 24 where we need to manifest our collective power.

Criminal Justice Assembly with County Prosecutor Michael O'Malley, Administrative and Presiding Judge John Russo, and other key Cuyahoga County criminal justice leaders. We anticipate having major announcements on establishing new Mental Health Crisis Centers and increasing opportunities for treatment and support in place of incarceration. It will be an opportunity to celebrate and begin to chart the way forward towards greater change.

Please note: this is still in the planning stages, but save the date, April 24, 7 pm. Details will follow.

Listening Training for One to One meetings

Tuesday April 10, 7pm, FHC

Lead Organizer, James Pearlstein will conduct the training.

The One-to-One relational meeting is an intentional, well-framed conversation between two people. It is the basic building block of all relational (or community) organizing, a potent tool for community formation and movement building. It connects head and heart, motivation (why we act) and strategy (how we act), and requires us to meet The Other with open ears and hearts, sharing and receiving stories of what matters most. What does a One-to-One Meeting help us to do?

- form relationships
- welcome people from all ends of the spectrum
- discern where the Spirit is moving
- claim our own callings
- identify our own and others' gifts and wisdom
- discover shared history, concerns, convictions and passion
- build trust and pathways for working together and trusting each other
- identify areas for community transformation, and celebrate what each contributes to that change

Library Reminder

To: Fellow Readers / Fellow FHC Library Patrons

We have a rather long list of books that have been signed out (a couple in 2011!) and not returned. If you know that you have used our library, check the list below to see if any titles seem familiar and take a look around the house to see if any turn up. (I suggest your nightstand, desk, bookshelf or perhaps even under the bed or behind the couch - but you are doubtless better housekeepers than I!) Absolute amnesty here - no fines, no public shaming. Just bring them back and put them into the basket by the library door. Let's keep what is a really good collection available for all of us.

Dear Friends,

Thank you SO much for the lovely goodbye and generous gift last month.

It has been my honor and privilege to work for Forest Hill Church and for you all these past years.

It's hard to leave such a wonderful place but I am looking forward to retirement and celebrating springtime in my new home!

Fondly,
Becky Austin

Celebration of Science and Invention

Did you know that Forest Hill Church member Peter Williams, who has served on Stewardship for many years, is also an accomplished inventor? In fact, he now has his name on 100 patents! In his honor, we, his family, are planning a Celebration of Science and Invention over Earth Day Weekend. We invite anyone and everyone from the Forest Hill Church Congregation (including visitors) to join us in the events on Saturday, April 21.

Saturday, April 21, during the day – Science and Invention in Cleveland
We encourage you to explore the history of science and invention in our beautiful city. We will provide a list of places in greater Cleveland that are connected in some way to Science and Invention. We have some out of town guests coming; if you would like to join us, you are welcome to meet up at our home at about 10:00 am.

Saturday, April 21, 6:00-10:00 pm – “Come as your Nerdy Self” Party
A big all-ages-included game night. These are Games for Very Nerdy People: card games, building marble chutes, board games, etc. We encourage people to dress as nerdy scientists & engineers for the occasion. For our generation that means pocket protectors, glasses held together with duck tape or band-aids, and slide rules. Other generations of nerdy people have other fashions (or lack of fashion). We will serve nerd food, such as pizza & tacos. In Fellowship Hall, Forest Hill Church.

If you plan to come, RSVP to Ann Williams (216-470-0074 or asw1217@gmail.com) so I can plan games & food for all!

Social Groups and Circles

The Group (60s – 70s – 80s): Planning Dinner

It's time for the annual potluck dinner at the Khourys' to plan next year's activities. Bring an appetizer or dessert to share, as well as brochures or ideas for events. Contact Zivile Khoury for a food assignment (440-461-8235 or zivile@gmail.com). If you have an idea for an event but can't come to the dinner, let Zivile know. We would welcome some new ideas.

April 14, Khourys', 930 Worton Park Dr., Mayfield Vil., 6:30pm

Iris Circle (all women of the church):

Iris Circle and women of Forest Hill Church are invited to come and learn about the Bell Tower and Carillon at Church of the Saviour, 2527 Lee Rd, Cleveland Hts on April 17. We will meet in the Library of Church of the Saviour. After a presentation about the carillon, any who are interested and able may go up into the bell tower and see the carillon first hand and play this beautiful instrument. Afterwards we will go to Nighttown for lunch. Please contact Cathy Ghiandoni (ghiandoni.c@gmail.com or 216 691-1905) by Friday, April 13 for lunch reservations.
